“I have cried everyday since you left.. I held your hand today & just saw you laying there & felt so much sadness inside. But you are at peace. I will miss my "304" texts & sharing songs with each other. I already miss you visiting me several times a night at work to keep me company. And hardly ever missing a "have a good night Ashley" each night you left, unless you were mad about something. 🙄 I have a note on my dresser mirror that you left my in the manifest when i was having a bad night, that says "You Will Be Okay." It will always stay there. Anytime I look in the mirror, it is there to tell me that. I miss you ☐
