“ Brooke and Family there is nothing I can say that you have not already been told But I love you and you have been my Child hood friend from day one and if you hurt the whole class of 1995 Hurt I can most likely speak for everyone we were all like brothers and sisters and I would not have traded that for anything . If you need anything or just someone to vent to I am here No it is not in the plan of Life to lose a child and the pain that you may feel is unbearable I am sure! But we will see all of our loved ones again one day and God just has other plans. I will pray for you and your family daily.
