“ It is quiet here in my office, the somberness has settled it since I read the news of Greg's passing. He was full of life and loved living it. While trying to think of something worthy of Greg to share, an incident of the 1983 workstoppage came to mind. Greg had been trapped in the test center for 2 plus weeks when I called his number to get some advise on a 4-party trouble report in Hindsville. After I explained that I'd never personally worked on a 4-party set, he put me on hold. Thirty seconds later, he came back on the line telling me to pick him up at the intersection of Crossover and Mission . . . He really needed to get out of the office for a while. The drive to Hindsville and back was great and a fun break for both of us in a stressful, tiring time.

He was always there for a smile or laugh and I regret that time and distance has caused me to not encounter him just once more. I was not prepared for the news.

To Sandy and the family, may God comfort you through these days and weeks. Rest in Him and may your faith see you through this valley. Bless you!

“ Sandy So saddened to learn of Greg’s passing. So many wonderful memories of Greg from the Ma Bell day’s and of riding motorcycles with both of you. Greg was without a doubt a major influence on so many lives. He was always quick with the wit and made everybody smile. I never met a man who loved his wife and kids more and he talked with such love of those grandkids. My heart breaks for your loss. I am hoping that you find comfort and peace during this time and I hope to see you at the service.

“ My sincere condolences on the passing of Greg- we had him come to our agency several times to share his wit, wisdom, and knowledge. I feel fortunate to have had occasions to simply chat with Greg about life and dealing with people- he always had something positive and uplifting to say, and solid advice on how to handle a situation.

I am sincerely sad he is gone, but glad he was able to share his gifts with the world and a lasting legacy to those he shared his stories, songs, and experience with.

I am sending sincerest wishes and prayers of healing for all of his family.

“ I have so many sweet and crazy memories of Greg. The funniest would have to be the four of us riding around in the old truck thru the pastures listening to Big Daddy Griff and Greg calling the station to request a special song for Sandra and Cherlena! He was such a hoot. I will treasure all these memories forever. He touched so many lives and always made you feel special. Gone but never forgotten

“ Surprised and sad to learn of Greg's passing. Greg was a good man with many good qualities, and a great sense of humor. Greg and I worked together on several difficult personnel matters at Southwestern Bell. I always felt Greg was fair and just in his dealings with employees. I have many fond memories. “ I am also heartbroken Sandy, Autumn and Amber. Oh how blessed you all were to have had all those years with Greg. His sense of humor was like no other. Just as his love for his family was, you were his top priority. I don't have to tell you that he loved you dearly! You all knew that on a daily basis. I will miss his beautiful writings and his awesome musical talent. Without a doubt, Heaven has received a very special angel. Spread your wings Greg and fly high with the angels. You will be missed.

“ I am in shock! Never knew he was ill. Sandy, I can not imagine the pain. My heart and prayers go out to you and your girls and family. Greg was my Human Resources mentor at Southwestern Bell. He always found a way to do the right thing for people, even if the system would not automatically do so. When the company closed the LR EAP office and transferred me and my young son , Justin, to San Antonio, Greg got Justin a pair of Justin cowboy boots. Touching and incredibly thoughtful. I so wished I could have directly worked for him, but I was lucky to be part of the HR related team. He inspired me to go into HR and I was lucky enough to work in that field for 10 years after I left SBC. I will never forget him. I can still see you two together. Sweethearts all those years. Bless you.
