“Homer frequently allowed me to accompany him kayaking along the marsh of Wolf Bay. He could identify birds before they actually came into view. Homer was a kind and gentle soul and one of the wisest men I know. He will forever be missed but remain in our hearts forever.”

Homer reached me when I was in a very dark place in my life. I will forever be grateful for the influence and positive impact this man had in my life. I think of Homer often and I will forever be grateful to this man.
