“ Lori was my very best friend from little girls through our teen years. We were often together at each other's home, church, Girl Scouts and eventually football games just to name a few. My mom would take us to the Friday night football games when we were in junior high. We would walk all around that field. I don't think we actually sat and watched any of the game, too busy hanging out! At summer camp, we shared cabins, bug bites and songs before mealtime. At church, we were always in the living nativity shivering from the cold as shepherds or wise men. I am so grateful for all of the memories!
