Never in a million years would I ever think to light a candle for one of my younger family members. If I could turn back the hands of times I would of made the last time we encountered each other a little longer. I love you forever Poodah!!

I feel so sad for you. You had such a rough time this last year. You had seemed to pull thru it. Doing so much for yourself, on your own while getting knocked down by those that claimed to have your interest and back. You tried to please to many of the wrong people. You and I always had a special bond of mutual respect and I will miss that. Your personality was greater than you could control. I always told you you would do great things in your life. You just had to get past the first 20 years. I think if I had been there just a tad more, when you were telling me how low you were getting in despair, how desperate you were becoming things might of been better. You always told me I was Mr Reliable, But try as I might, I couldn't give you enough to get you thru this years obstacles....I failed you. Be that as it may, Gods plan isnt always ours and i seek solace in the fact that his will be done. I will miss you (Noah) Marc. You were tormented alas you suffer no more!

Rest In Peace
