“ *My Mama My soul feels empty with out you still here making Me feel loved and giving me A reason too laugh at the silly things you come up with to say. I will continue to go too your house and make sure everything is okay and check on Aunt Ruth everyday even though it feel empty with out you there it still home and your sweet spirit fills every single room in it just like it fills my heart! It's okay that you are not there because I know your are now well and your pain is all gone. I know your dancing in heaven with all your love ones that with you. Until we meet again I will hold you in my heart and long to kiss your forehead once again. You always would ask Me when I talked out the door if I was going to come back because you missed me when I was gone so now I have too wait until it my turn to go to heaven so I can never have to leave your side again... you are more than my mama your my Minky Ma, Big Mama My heart My all and yes Mama I'm going to come back If God will let me in until then I will wait and try my best to make you proud as you look down here on Me my Garden Angel in Heaven I love you Eternally Mama! “ When I married her son Charlie. She told me first 2 things. Don't hit him in his face please. Please I hope you are not the other and stay with him, you have to calm him down and get him to straightened up. And if you do your one special woman that will love with his whole heart. Well Big Moma you told me 17 years ago that I would always have a Big Moma as long as you were here and that I wasn't going no where now lol. I love you and I promise as long as I'm alive I will do what I promised on March 7th when said our good byes
