“ Myrtis was an egg customer who became a dear friend. She would stop by our farm to or from her trips for treatments or visiting family. It was always a celebration and always a chance to trade produce or gifts. Myrtis was gracious and generous, sharing what she had without hesitation.

I learned about her life and her family through our brief visits. It will not be the same and we will miss her smile and her stories. My only regret is we were unable to spend more time together. Condolences to her family and friends.
