“ Tamberlyn, I thought I saw you yesterday and I cried!!! You were one friend that I could always count on in a situation. My friend, you have touched me in so many. I feel that I failed you for not being able to be with you or even knowing when you came. I have been around your illness, I would just be there. Like when we when we would go out, you always turn and say that is enough, Tammie. I told you about a situation that scared me to death...I was in a panic...the next day, you brought, Bessie. I fell in love and bonded with her immediately, and she would not let anyone near me. I miss you, Sweetie. I know you, you will watch over your David and your friend, and sometimes your crazy friends...All My Love...
